Lake Villa Talks Library

By BETSY ROSSEN

The Lake Villa Township Library board hasn't given up yet.

In a special meeting Monday night, members further considered sites and funding of a new building. In a referendum conducted in September, residents turned down both a Lindenhurst site and increased taxes for the project.

THE ROUTE they have now chosen is a popular one this fall: a local public works grant application. The federal grant, designed to alleviate unemployment in the building trades, covers 100 percent of building costs as drawn.

Also required before filing is commitment on a site.

Township supervisor Ron Coles, present at the meeting at the invitation of board chairman Tony Leisner, encouraged the board to apply, estimating they have a "better than even" chance.

Village Ponders Senior Citizen Housing Project

Senior citizen housing in Antioch is now at the drawing-board stage.

Last Thursday, plan commission members were shown sketches of such a development by architect Richard P. Mann of the Chicago firm of Dubin, Dubin, Black and Moupoussamy.

CONSTRUCTION OF 120 one-bedroom units is being considered on land owned by Alice Young, north of Williams Park. Plans call for two three-story buildings and 45 to 50 parking spaces.

Though the project is still in the discussion stage, an informal poll of commission members revealed that they would not be opposed to changing the density from 16 to 30 units per acre.

ALSO IN QUESTION at the meeting was an industrial annexation of 25 acres on the northern edge of the village. The land is west of Oakwood Knolls, east of Rt. 83 and bordered on the north by the state line.

Present and future owners of the property have acquired a pre-annexation agreement, in hopes of M-1 (manufacturing) zoning and annexation to the village. Before this is accomplished, however, public hearings must be held by both the zoning board of appeals and the village board.

THE COMMISSION has scheduled a continuation of last week's meeting for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) to consider a petition by Bill Meyer to rezone property on North Ave., east of the Antioch Sales and Auction barns.

Also on the agenda are a revision of the subdivision ordinance and a new flood plain and storm water retention ordinance.

Put on Your Dancing Shoes For St. Peter's

St. Peter's Church of Antioch is holding its eighth annual Thanksgiving Dinner-Dance Saturday, Nov. 20, in the church's social center. Cocktails will be served beginning at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will start at 7 p.m.

GENERAL CO-CHAIRMAN Dan and Joanne Dugenske are enthusiastic about the hard work the committees are doing to make one of the last bicentennial events of the community calendar a smashing success.

Hank and Rickey Apostol, decorations co-chairmen, promise a "Theme Supreme." Babe Wagner will play the organ before dinner.

TICKETS FOR WHAT promises to be an excellent dinner, and music for dancing by John Olisar's "The Sound Investment" are $7.50 per person.

Tickets are available at the State Bank of Antioch, the First National Bank of Antioch, Antioch Savings and Loan and St. Peter's rectory.

"Because tickets are limited, please make your reservations early so you won't be disappointed," Mr. Dugenske said.

"All the proceeds from this dance will benefit St. Peter's school," he added. "So, rev up your appetite, put on your dancing shoes and come to help make this year's Dinner-Dance a truly commemorative community affair."

The Antioch News hopes you have a happy day.

Vandals Causing Heavy Damage With Pellet Guns

The Lake County sheriff's department is blaming vandals for about $10,000 in damages to windows at 10 business places on Rt. 173, in the Channel Lake area west of Antioch.

The owner of Wilson Upholstery said 35 of his windows were "shot out."

Smith Marine reported that 11 windows in its building were damaged by pellets from air rifles. Each window will cost $350 to replace, a spokesman for the firm said.

Most of the incidents apparently took place after 10 p.m. Thursday.

During the weekend, residents of Antioch reported similar vandalism to village police.

A front bay window was damaged at a residence on Spafford St., a window on Harden St. also was hit by a pellet gun, and a resident on North Ave. said he found four holes in a bedroom window at his house.

Parent-Teacher Talks Scheduled

Parent-teacher conferences will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 16-17, at Emmons school.

On those two days, there will be no classes for students. The conferences will be held between 8:15 a.m. and 3 p.m. Schedules have been sent to the parents.

Superintendent John Kakacek said, "during the conferences we will evaluate student progress as well as school programs."

Former Antioch Resident Killed In Crash Here

A Salem, Wis., motorist was killed in Antioch early Monday morning when his car hit a tree at the intersection of Hy. 83 and North Ave.

The accident happened shortly after 1 a.m. Dead on arrival at St. Therese hospital in Waukegan was Dennis D. Damron, 25, formerly of Antioch.

Damron was alone in his car, driving south on Hy. 83, when his auto apparently veered onto the east side of the road.

Sheriff's deputies said the car left the road and slammed broadside into the tree. A coroner's jury has been named to investigate the crash.

A Little Bit About A Lot of Things

By JERRY PFARR

It's amazing what a person finds when he finally decides to clean out his desk.

Along with all the empty whiskey bottles, we discovered all sorts of delightful information we've been saving for you.

We're the type who never throws anything away. Every item of interest must be "filed," if the desk drawers are overflowing, then in a cardboard box, because someday all of this wonderful stuff must be shared with our readers. Today's the day.

THERE'S A NOTE HERE on bumper stickers. We saw a car with a bumper sticker that said: "Honk if you love Jesus."

Then we saw another car pass it with a sticker that said:

"Honk twice if you are Jesus."

Another bumper sticker:

"Boycott Non-Union Lettuce."

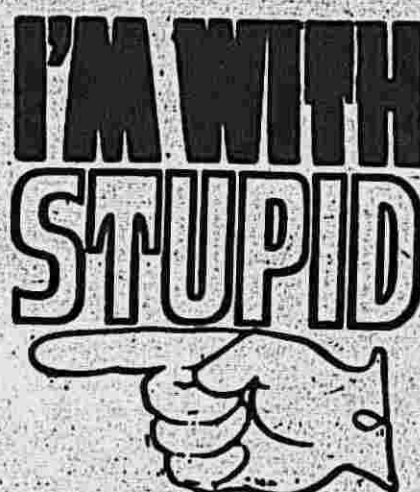

We didn't even know they got their heads together and unionized. What are we supposed to do for lunch, order a bacon, blank and tomato sandwich? "A B.B.T. on toast?"

So look for the union label in your salad.

BUT THE BUMPER STICKER fad is being replaced by the T-shirt thing. You're middle-aged if you remember when all T-shirts were white and worn by men with crewcuts.

Today the kids are wearing T-shirts decorated with photos of Starsky and Hutch and, of course, "The Fonz."

The other day we saw a teenage couple walking down Main St. and the girl's T-shirt said: "I'm With Stupid."

His T-shirt said: "I'm Hers Because She Appreciates Perfection."

ERLENE PEARCE TELLS US about the couple that went to a Halloween costume party, she dressed as a hot dog and he as an outhouse ... "Frankie and Johnnie."

You probably read the recent story out of

ABOUT 150 HOLES damaged windows at Wilson Upholstery, just west of Antioch on Rt. 173 and 2nd Ave., during the weekend. Harold W. Wilson said vandals, apparently using pellet guns, damaged four large plate glass windows and 31 smaller windows. He estimated the damage at more than $3,000. Wilson Upholstery was only one of several Antioch area businesses and residences hit by the rash of pellet-gun vandalism.

Alabama. Sam Garofola stopped for gas and then drove for more than five hours before he noticed he had left something behind ... his wife.

"He said he just didn't notice," Helen Garofola said after Sam called from a gas station about 300 miles away to say he was on his way back.

"I said I was going to the ladies' room and he didn't pay any attention," Helen complained.

Helen had been sleeping in the back of their station wagon.

"He must think I'm invisible," she said. "Well, the next time he wants a home-cooked meal, I'm going to be invisible again."

We understand Sam has a striped shirt and a whistle and will be one of the officials Sunday when the Chicago Bears play the Green Bay Packers.

After an official's inadvertent whistle cost the Bears a victory last Sunday, some fans were mighty angry.

One Antioch fellow was still so mad on Monday morning that he told his Rice Krispies to shut up.

'I Was a Teenage Babysitter'

By BETSY ROSSEN

Why is it that all the epics of the cinema make their television debuts on Monday nights? Don't network executives realize that our staff finds this policy very traumatic?

Take this past Monday. I had nearly recovered from the emotional upset of having to miss the Amelia Earhart special (having lived for three years in the hall at Purdue University bearing her name) when the news broke that the second portion of Gone With the Wind was to be shown on -- you guessed it -- Monday night!

MAYBE I'LL come up with my own movie some day. I'll call it "I Was a Teenage Babysitter," or "Preschool Terrors I Have Known."

One charmer is particularly vivid in my memory. At the peak of my career, I stayed with a four-year-old dynamo every Thursday morning. The little guy was a real comic: a combination of Sluggo and Dennis the Menace.

Why the job is called "sitting" I'll never know. Perhaps some exceptionally strong individual decided that was the only way to control the little rascals.

SLUGGO WAS NOT the worst tyke I've encountered. However, I might mention that my retirement from babysitting came soon after a particularly "challenging" session.

The weekly job was during the summer, the time when active boys like to play outside. Having a youngster outside is good for them, I realize. But it does increase the battleground.

Double your pleasure, double your fun.

He was outside digging a new foundation for the house with his Tonka toys when I stepped inside to answer the phone. I figured that by the time I came back out he could only have dug a crawlspace, at the very most.

As I replaced the receiver after gently but firmly declining the offer of 92 acres in Utah or the entire state of Rhode Island, I was surprised to hear rain on the windows.

That's funny, I mused, the sun was shining a minute ago. Sluggo, you didn't...

He did. I looked out the window just in time to see a little boy running from window to window, gleefully hosing down the house.

I dashed outside as he began work on the upstairs panes. "I'm helping Daddy wash windows!" he announced.

I tentatively squished my way across the yard as he wrestled with the garden hose which by this time had a mind of its own. "Careful! Careful now," I yelled futilely. "We don't want to wreck Mommy's flowers, do we?"

"What?" he answered, turning toward me. "Oh, no, Sluggo, don't..." But by then I was going under for my third rinse.

With wild eyes and drenched clothes I groped toward the valve. Hamlin Avenue's answer to the Johnstown flood had been averted.

NAPTIME. The delight of every babysitter. Sluggo, exhausted from his bout with the garden hose, was upstairs, drifting off to dreamland. Or so I thought.

Before she left, Sluggo's mother had given her usual offer of a snack. So quietly, not wanting to wake the little fellow, I began to investigate the cookie supply.

"Stay out of my mommy's cupboards!!!" a voice screamed down the stairs.

Deftly slamming the cabinet door on my hand, I stumbled upstairs to muffle the next outburst.

After all, Sluggo the Second was asleep in the next room.

Carter Didn't Exactly Receive a 'Mandate'

When John F. Kennedy was asked what he thought of his "mandate" the morning after he defeated Richard Nixon in 1960, he said, "It was more of a boydate."

That's what Jimmy Carter got. But, if Carter and the Democrats in Congress get it in their heads that theirs is a mandate, we may see a flurry of legislation early next year that will give America and economic hangover that could last a generation.

CARTER & COMPANY AREN'T going to find unemployment any easier to lick than Gerald Ford did, though some quick-fix public jobs bills may make it look for awhile as if they have.

As for other features of their platform - oil company divestiture and compulsory national health insurance for instance - if Carter uses the "honeymoon" to push them through, look for higher gasoline prices, more dependence on Arab oil and a zooming tax bill for the cost of medicine.

All this will be followed - months or a few years down the road - by a lot of righteous indignation from the perpetrators of the legislation, along with the usual search for scapegoats.

CARTER MAY HAVE TO work fast. The honeymoon could be brief. There were no coattails. And, in the Senate at least, the virtually unchanged party lineup masks the fact that the Senate's composition tilts slightly more conservatively than before.

That body could get restless fairly early if liberal initiatives by Carter go too far.

For the Ford camp there will be a lot of might-have-beens. Gerald Ford gave it all he had and reduced Carter's midsummer lead of 30 points down to a whisker at the end. It will be hard for his political operatives to resist the temptation to make alibis.

ANOTHER PREDICTION: the Washington press corps may quickly get under President Carter's skin. It is thin skin, as he showed us several times this last year, and the national press is anything but shy about criticizing politicians. The first time Carter rankles at press criticism, look for him to get a lot more of it.

Robert Strauss and the Democratic Party are cheering at the prospect of recapturing those 3,000-or-so appointive jobs in the executive branch. But they were only partly successful in putting the New Deal coalition back together. If Carter hadn't been a native southerner and if Ford had had more appeal to Southern voters on their "gut" issues, the regional linkage between South, Southwest and West (which polls have shown to be in the making for some time) would have emerged full blown.

Carter proved that Southerners will pull together to support a native son, but if his presidency moves more in the direction of, say, Northern urban interests that supported him, Southerners in Congress will begin to move back to their philosophical moorings on votes.

Federal Paperwork Costs Us Plenty

Will last week's election mean an end, or even a slowdown, of the blizzard of federal paperwork? Don't bet on it.

No one has been able to say exactly what it is costing American business and the consumer to keep up the paperwork demanded by federal regulations. But one thing you can bank on: whatever the cost, it is being passed along to you in higher prices.

Businesses don't really have any choice. If they didn't pass along their costs they couldn't survive.

FOR EXAMPLE, YOU MAY already be paying 50 cents more for every prescription you have filled. So says Robert Wood, chairman of Eli Lilly and Company of Indianapolis, one of the world's largest pharmaceutical manufacturers, who recently testified before the commission on federal paperwork. (This is a federal bureau of recent vintage which is supposed to find ways to cut down on paperwork.)

Wood told the commission that his company prepares 27,000 government forms a year at a total cost of $5 million. It spends another $10 million a year on background work and analysis in the effort to comply with federal regulations.

He said this works out to about 50 cents added to the cost of each prescription for one of his company's medications.

Wood also said that his company must spend more time completing government forms than it spends on research for cancer and heart disease combined.

LILLY TURNED OUT a ton of paperwork - 200,000 pages - to complete its application to the Food and Drug Administration for a new arthritis drug. About one-fourth of the pages were important to evaluate the drug. The other three-quarters were detailed records of every patient who had received it during testing.

In another case, a 151-page computer printout was required just to index information the company had submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency for approval of an agricultural product. Each entry represented from three to 3,000 pieces of information!

Wood argues that much of the problem is caused by business having to resubmit records in duplicate and triplicate because a government bureau has claimed that the information is not "readily retrievable." In plain English, this means nobody can find it in the files.

THOUGH HE DOES NOT quarrel with the need for health and safety standards, Wood calls for a dose of common sense in paperwork requirements.

He recommends limiting agency regulations to those which can pass stiff cost-benefit tests.

He also advocates something called "certified summaries." In this process, the government is supplied with basic information in a new drug, while back-up certified documentation would be available for examination if needed. But it would not be sent in automatically.

In many cases, Wood believes, this would cut down sharply on time and money invested in paperwork which may not be needed.

LAST YEAR, the FDA received 137 new drug applications, 157 resubmitted applications and 966 of the so-called abbreviated applications.

So, the idea of "certified summaries" sounds as if it is worth considering, especially if cost savings were passed along to consumers in the form of lower prices on medicine.

Meanwhile, the only people who seem to be happy with the federal paperwork blizzard are shareholders in paper and filing cabinet companies. And, of course, the bureaucrats.

A newspaper dedicated to people marching to their own drummers.

GOP Should Offer Clearcut Alternative

History may write that 1976 was the last time the Republicans tried to piece together a coalition of the party's conservative majority with a vocal, but fading liberal faction whose theme has been "don't worry about convictions, let's win."

This faction, which hasn't done much winning in recent years, is the last vestige of that 1940's brand of Republicanism which was content to say "yes, but" to Democrat big-government initiatives.

REPUBLICAN PARTY ACTIVISTS, mostly conservatives (and many of them recent converts), have been restless about this "yes, but" approach. But, the party wasn't quite ready this year to rechristen itself and to openly offer a permanent new home to conservative independents and Democrats.

It did take a big first step when its rank-and-file members hammered out a platform which recognizes that a majority of Americans - according to public opinion polls - today consider themselves conservatives. It leaves little doubt that, just below the surface, the Republican Party is hankering to be reborn.

Though President Ford pledged support of the platform, he took only intermittent advantage of its many clearcut differences from the Democrats. And, his vice president, Nelson Rockefeller, took pains to belittle it.

AND, WHAT OF Ronald-Reagan?

This is the only prediction he says he can make with certainty:

"I heard, saw and felt this struggle for Republican reformation this fall as I campaigned back and forth across the country. The message I got was that if the party didn't win this one, it should reshape itself into a clearcut alternative to the Democrats. I intend to be in the thick of that effort."

Now that the election is over and we are sending outstanding people such as Karl Berning, Dan Pierce, Betty Lou Reed and Don Deuster back to Springfield, they will be representing us in the 80th General Assembly. It convenes in January.

A member of the General Assembly is entitled to a reasonable compensation for a job well done. Illinois has provided such a salary, $20,000 a year (legislative leaders receive more because of added duties).

New York ($23,500 a year) and California ($21,120 a year) rank ahead of Illinois in the salary schedule.

When reviewing the legislative salary schedule of states, it can be noted that the states which command the highest salaries for legislators are the most populous and meet in unlimited sessions.

On Saturday morning of last week William Tiffany was the victim of a serious accident while shredding corn. Soon after he started the day's work, in fact the machine had been under headway but a few moments, he noticed the corn seemed clogged and his left hand in some way became caught in the machine and before it could be stopped his arm had been badly cut and crushed as high as the elbow.

Receive Honors

Several area students have made the first quarter honor rolls at Carmel high schools in Mundelein.

Mark Telinski of Antioch received special honors (4.0 and above) and David Nyre of Lake Villa was awarded first honors (3.50 to 3.99).

Gary DeWald, Craig Nelson, Thomas Sullivan and Walter Brysiewicz, all of Lake Villa, are on the second honors list (3.00 to 3.49).

Lindenhurst is represented on the second honors roll by Richard Panek and Mark Wolff.

Anne Seisser and Linda Pansczyk have been placed on the A honors roll. Virginia Brysiewicz, Anne Marie Lorang, Mary Michael Ogden and Mary Virginia Wolff are among the B honor students. All the girls are from Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

TOM KELLY, left, president of Antioch Savings and Loan Association, presents a set of Grolier New Age encyclopedias to Paul Hettich of Rt. 2, Antioch. His sons, Philip, 8, and Paul, 11, also are happy about what their father calls "an unexpected form of interest on our savings." Antioch Savings recently sponsored a back-to-school promotion, concluded by a grand prize drawing Oct. 30.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Wonder if the stores are selling out of popcorn? This sure is a great week for movie-lovers, isn't it?

BIG NEWS at the corner of Rt. 83 and North Ave. George and Sally Ackerman are the new owners of Buster's Drive-In. They tell us they're planning a grand opening soon.

What shop on the west side of Main St. has a new, attractive sign?

TODAY'S THE DAY to wish Frank Benes and Bill Carney a happy birthday. Another special event for the day is Walter and Lillian Allen's 25th anniversary. The couple lives on Rock Lake, she is known by Antioch folks for her PM&L roles.

And while you're wishin', give a belated greeting to Missouri Cunningham, whose birthday was yesterday, the 9th. We also hope Bette Heath had a great birthday Nov. 3.

Mystery Dept.: The Plotz's "adopted" daughter wishes Kim a happy sweet 16 on the 15th and all the best for Vernie on the 19th.

HEAR TELL the winners of the DeGraff's Shoes contest have been selected.

The men's shoes were won by Donna Wallen, the women's by Toni Rowe and the child's by Joanne Dugenske.

All three are Antioch residents. Gertrude Schulz drew the names.

THE BIG WINNER in the Antioch Lions Club Thanksgiving raffle was E. J. Halsey of Antioch, who won a Winchester 12 gauge automatic shotgun.

The second prize winner is happy, too. William Meyer of Glendale Heights won a half-gallon of Seagrams VO Canadian Whiskey.

WE RECEIVED A NICE LETTER from Mrs. Walter C. Aschenbrenner of Long Beach, Calif., who still reads the Antioch News.

"I'm an old-timer from the Antioch area," she reminded us. "I spent all my summers as a child at Lake Marie and then, in 1949, we made the house into a year-round home and I lived there until five years ago. Taught in the Antioch schools so I have a soft spot in my heart for Antioch and will always think of it as home."

Mrs. Aschenbrenner also had kind words for our newspaper:

"It is a good town," she writes, "and I feel you are a real addition to our town and have a very good paper."

DON'T FORGET, ANTIOCH'S calendar for November includes a Bicentennial Thanksgiving Dinner-Dance at St. Peter's Social center on Saturday night, Nov. 20, and a Bicentennial Thanksgiving church service, for combined faiths, on the eve of Thanksgiving, Wednesday, Nov. 24. See you there, both on the 20th and the 24th.

A SPECIAL HAPPY BIRTHDAY this Friday, Nov. 12, to Marie D'Onofrio. And, it's hard to believe, but little Al Pionke will be 2 years old already next Monday, Nov. 15. His mom, Chris, of course, is secretary of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

FOR THOSE WITH A YEN to revive the antics of the 1950's, complete with outfits of that era, there's a dance Saturday night at the Lake Villa VFW on Grand Avenue at the railroad tracks.

The Lake Villa-Lindenhurst Jaycees are sponsoring the dance, which will also include pastimes of the 50's such as hula hooping, people-packing a phone booth and even goldfish swallowing, chairman Tom Pentinnen said.

The "Cinnamen" will provide music for couples getting the kinks out of the mambo, the twist and other dances of that era. Dancing will begin at 8 p.m. with tickets available at the door.

The Jaycees have asked that those who attend wear the attire of the 50's - such as bobby socks, saddle shoes, leather jackets and jeans.

4-H Pancake Breakfast At Bank This Sunday

"A delicious serving of sizzling sausages, pancakes, coffee and milk all for only $1.50 donation can be yours on Sunday, Nov. 14," says Bill Messerschmidt, 4-H Adviser.

"It is the 3rd Annual Lake County 4-H Pancake fund-raising," says Messerschmidt, and all proceeds go directly into the county 4-H program.

The breakfast-brunch will be served from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the community room at the First National Bank of Antioch, sponsor of the breakfast.

As in 1975, children under 12 years donate only $1. Tickets can be purchased at the door or ahead of time from the 4-H office on Rt. 45 in front of the fairgrounds, or call 223-8627.

Antioch residents can contact 4-H leader and breakfast chairwoman, Mrs. Carolyn Van Patten, at 395-0366 or 4-H member, Tom Hevrdejs, at 395-0251. This year's Lake County Fair Queen is expected to be there at about 9 a.m.

Door prizes will be given. The bank bought a prize hog from the Lake County Fair auction. From this, quality cuts including pork chops, hams and pork roast will be awarded as door prizes. Persons need not be present at the time of the drawings. The remainder of the meat will be made into sausage patties and served at the breakfast.

"PLANNING THE PANCAKE fund-raising involves much cooperation between the staffs of the First National Bank and the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service, supervisors of the 4-H program," Messerschmidt said.

Mrs. Van Patten is also the mortgage officer for the First National Bank. She originated the fund-raising idea three years ago.

Bank president, Mr. L. W. Woods, supported the idea and Messerschmidt was then contacted.

Lake Villa Discusses Library Sites

Funding is decided by computer calculations of a point system in the district served by the organization applying.

Leisner told board members, "We have a slight edge because we tried to fund the project in another way."

LANDOWNER PETE WILTON, who first offered to donate acreage to the board about a year ago, told members, "I'm making an offer with no other motive than the good of the township."

Three two-acre parcels owned by Wilton are being considered: by the Intermediate School, north of Monaville Rd.; adjacent to Prince of Peace School, east of Rt. 83 and a nearby pond; and at the intersection of Deep Lake Rd. and Grand Ave.

The board favors the third site, Wilton, the first. As a result, the board voted to prepare the grant application, leaving the site open until they hear from Wilton on a final offer. Members asked him to respond by the next special meeting, Monday, Nov. 22.

SHOULD WILTON make a commitment on the Deep Lake Rd. - Grand Ave. property, the board will also receive 200 feet of land from John Gridley, property owner immediately to the west of Wilton. The land in question is on the south side of Grand Ave., in line with Deep Lake Rd.

Village trustees Chase Millsop and Howard Schneider pledged village cooperation on the construction of the triangular-shaped building.

IF THE BOARD is denied federal funding, it most likely will rent bigger facilities than those of the present location at 117 Cedar Ave. The board has been offered space in the Linden Plaza.

Energy experts say that if American industry could increase energy efficiency by 10 to 15 percent, we could save about 4 million barrels of oil a day—enough to run the state of California for 32 hours at today's consumption rate.

In conjunction with national Diabetes Detection Week, Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan will offer free blood sugar testing from Nov. 14-18. The program is part of a nationwide effort to discover the hidden diabetic.

To make an appointment for a free blood sugar test, area residents should call Victory Memorial at 688-3161. Appointments must be made no later than Friday, Nov. 12. Testing will take place between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., but none will be performed without prior appointment. Also, the test is not for persons known to have diabetes.

The Zion Community Singers will assemble Sunday, Nov. 14, in preparation for their annual performance of Handel's oratorio, "Messiah."

This first rehearsal will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the sanctuary of the Christian Catholic Church. Rehearsals also will be held at the same time Nov. 21 and 28.

Any singers interested in becoming a part of this Christmas celebration are invited.

Brazilian Student Seeking Local Host Family

Joao Andrade, 17, is a bright and energetic student from Brazil who will be traveling to the United States in January as a Youth for Understanding exchange student. By living with an American family and attending high school, Joao will learn much about the United States, its people and culture.

Since its Latin American program began in 1960, Youth for Understanding has brought over 5,700 Brazilians into American homes. The Ann Arbor-based organization is currently looking for a home for Joao (who has expressed a strong desire to come to the Lake County area) and for many other Latin American students who hope to come to the states.

"WE ARE LOOKING for host families in the Lake County area who wish to share their homes with new son or daughter from another country," said Y.F.U. representatives Greg and Cheryl Collins of Antioch. "The Y.F.U. student develops an awareness of life in the U.S. through participation in the daily activities of his host family and high school. At the same time, he shares his own culture and national heritage with his family."

Host families, in addition to welcoming the students into their homes, provide necessities such as food and housing. Other than this and occasional spending money, the host family does not bear any unnecessary financial burden. The new son or daughter participates as a regular member of the family and is given the same responsibilities and privileges as other children in the family.

INTERESTED FAMILIES are urged to contact Greg and Cheryl at 395-4085. Greg may also be reached at Antioch Community High School (395-1421); Cheryl at Grant Community High School (587-2561).

Youth for Understanding is a non-profit educational organization which cooperates with and receives an annual grant from the United States Dept. of State in carrying out its goal of increased international understanding through student exchange. Since its inception in 1951, Youth for Understanding has facilitated the exchange of more than 50,000 U.S. and foreign students in 48 countries world-wide.

HAPPENINGS

The anniversary of the birthday of Baha'ullah, prophet-founder of the Baha'i Faith, will be celebrated on Friday at 10 a.m. with a devotional program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Ray Fechtner, Lake Catherine.

The observance will be followed by lunch and social hour.

The Baha'i Faith originated in Persia (now Iran) in 1844. The basic teachings of Baha'ullah, Baha'is believe, are applicable today, and are a call to the unity of all mankind. Baha'ullah's vision of a united world begins with each man and woman. Individuals must have high moral standards and a new basis of belief if they are to become citizens of one world.

Energy and More

A 60-watt light bulb burns 17 hours for the same money it takes to light a 100-watt bulb for 10 hours. In 1920 the total electrical generating capacity of the United States was 20,000 megawatts. By 1974 it had increased 20 times to 400,000 megawatts. Government agricultural experts say that if gasoline shortages kept America's farm tractors in the barn, it would take 61 million horses to do the plowing.

Spacious Foremost Store Has Its Grand Opening

Antioch's Foremost Liquor Store is celebrating its grand opening in its new location in the Antioch Shopping Plaza.

Foremost moved from its previous site in the Plaza to the more spacious quarters formerly occupied by the Ace Hardware Store.

The owners of the Foremost Liquor Stores in Antioch, Lindenhurst, Harvard and Chicago are Herman and Don Kosh.

THE KOSH BROTHERS WERE born in Chicago and started a small Foremost store there in 1961. They call their Antioch store "one of the largest and most complete liquor stores in the state of Illinois." It has 12,000 square feet of space.

Their supervisor is Dave Bushing, who also designs the Foremost stores.

Dave is well-known in Antioch as a member of the Lions Club and the Northern Illinois Conservation Club.

He has lived in this area most of his life and opened the original Antioch Foremost store in June of 1966. Dave is married, has nine children and three grandchildren.

MANAGER OF THE Antioch store is Kevin Kelly, an Antioch High School graduate. Kevin, 25, has been with Foremost for five years.

"He has taken various wine classes," said Bushing, "and thus Kevin has become one of the more knowledgeable wine authorities in our area."

Kevin is married and has one son.

Oscar Bettack, 19, is the store's assistant manager. He was born in Milwaukee but moved to Millburn in 1970 and graduated from Antioch High School.

Oscar has been with Foremost since he was 15 years old and is the youngest assistant manager in the company.

SHOPPERS FLOCKED TO THE Grand Opening of the new Foremost Liquor Store in the Antioch Shopping Plaza. The former site of Ace

Hardware, the liquor store has 12,000 square feet of space and was designed by Dave Bushing of Antioch.

Inca Empire

South America's ancient Inca empire covered 2,500 miles, comparable to the extent of the Roman Empire which spanned an area from contemporary Great Britain to Iran. High Inca nobles were distinguished by their short haircuts and large earplugs. One Spanish explorer observed that some ear disks were as wide as a big orange.

KODAK Color Processing

It makes sense to ask for Kodak color processing for your Kodak color film.

That's because no one is more familiar with Kodak films than Kodak. No one knows their characteristics better—and how to get the best pictures from them.

Another thing to consider is that Kodak color films are the only films processed. The men and women who work in Kodak's processing labs have a thorough knowledge of Kodak films.

And just as important as their technical know-how is their awareness that the film you send for processing holds some of the important moments of your life.

That's a responsibility Kodak takes very seriously.

Band Parents Back Young Musicians

By BONNIE BORLA

The Antioch Grade School Band Parents Assn. is an organization of parents who give their time to try to raise money to support the band program, above and beyond what the school can afford.

Thirty-one additional band uniforms have been ordered and we, along with the school district, will each pay half. We also have purchased a complete tape recording system for our band program, plus two large musical instruments.

OUR ANNUAL CANDY SALE is also underway. Candy is on sale until Dec. 3. The band students will be working hard at making this a successful sale.

At the Nov. 2 meeting Antioch Grade School band booster jackets were on display. Students and parents are showing interest in obtaining these jackets. They are kelly green nylon, with the emblem "Antioch Grade School Band Booster."

You can get the jacket with either flannel or pile lining. This is not a fund raising event. We just think the band students and their boosters will take special pride in wearing them. Barnstables in Antioch will carry the jackets in time for Christmas.

THERE ARE BAND STUDENTS in need of used instruments. I am trying to compose a list of these students and also anyone who might be interested in getting rid of a used instrument. Please call me at 395-1628.

We hope to see a greater attendance at the Dec. 7 meeting at 8 p.m. in the Upper Grade School cafeteria. There is so much more a band parent can do than just listen to his child practice and go to concerts.

Beginning band members are hard at work in anticipation of their first concert, to be held at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 15 at the Antioch Grade School.

Residents Enjoy Halloween Fun

By JENNIE LIPMAN

Hope you and yours had a safe and happy Halloween.

APPROXIMATELY 100 CHILDREN participated in the annual Halloween parade and costume-judging contest. There were so many truly original costumes that I'm sure the judges, village employees Shirley Gutowski and Kathy Toft, had a difficult time selecting the winners.

They are: 1-3 years old - Ryan Tomaschlik, first; Jenny Jo Leonhart, second; James Tonyon, third; and Nicky Galdine, fourth.

4-6 years old - Shawn Reeves, first; Elaine Johnson, second; Janey Marie Yanka, third; and Andrea Payne, fourth.

7-9 years old - Cindy Harrison, first; Corin Grandsart, second; Wayne Kilman, third; and Charles Davis, fourth.

10-14 years old - Kathy Geist, first; Wendy Grandsart, second; Wendy Weber, third and Jackie Harris, fourth.

DID A SENIOR SQUAW and her tribe come begging at your door? In reality that was 43 year old Edna Wipper who, hidden behind war paint and feathers, took her children and grandchildren trick-or-treating.

I also went door-to-door with my mother, the Indian Chief. Behind the face of a sad clown, I carried by 14 month-old Raggedy Ann a couple of blocks until we were too cold. We older kids can't tolerate the cold as long.

My mother, while sitting at the kitchen table with her collection of goodies spread out in front of her, sorting her favorites into little piles, commented that she hadn't had that much fun since she was 10.

GARY AND JUDY LARSON, 250 Hickory, entertained some 20 guests at a Halloween costume party, Oct. 30. Everyone from Mickey and Minnie Mouse to Frankenstein and the bionic tin man showed up to make the party a success.

Guests included Randy and Jennie Lipman, Pat and Brian Pedersen of Antioch, Joyce and Clay Murray of Gurnee and Renee Hamm and Randy Koppen of Fox Lake.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Brett Jandula, who won first place in the pumpkin decorating contest sponsored by Jewel food store. He received a pumpkin filled with candy, toys and balloons for his winning entry.

Larry Wegel was among the winners of a $5 savings account for his Halloween poster entered at the State Bank of Antioch.

'Amahl' Arrives in Antioch

Who says Americans are fast workers? The Bicentennial year is here, and we still haven't fixed that crack in the Liberty Bell.

Ken Smouse and his Fool's Players bring "Amahl and the Night Visitors" to the Antioch Community High School stage this weekend, Nov. 12 and 13. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

This musical story by Gian-Carlo Menotti tells of Amahl, a little crippled shepherd boy, and the mysterious visit of three kings. The 2,000-year-old story tells of the kings following a star in search of a very special child. They stop at the cottage of Amahl and his mother for shelter for the night.

DIRECTOR SMOUSE of Antioch also plays the part of a king. Many will remember him as Tevye in "Fiddler on the Roof" and Annas in "Jesus Christ Superstar" last spring. Those who attend "The Messiah" each year will recognize Ken as the conductor.

Mary Chris La Kome of Lake Zurich, a teacher at St. Mary's of Freemont Center, plays the mother. She won the Mr. Thespis Award for her role as Maggie in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and played Mary Magdalene in "Jesus Christ Superstar" last spring. Amahl is played by Tim Collins of Mundelein, sixth grade student at Freemont Center. He was Oliver in his school's production of "Oliver" and participated in a bicentennial pageant that appeared at McCormick Place. He has been soloist for his school chorus.

THE KINGS are played by Bill Sershon, Wayne Sobczak, and Ken Smouse. He played Charlie Brown in "Charlie Brown" and Peter in "Superstar." Bill is an engineer and department head at Sheraton Chicago.

Wayne Sobczak sang in the chorus of "Superstar" and is a soloist at St. Peter's Church of Antioch. Wayne, who also sings in "The Messiah," works for Roadway Express and is the technical supervisor at Lincolnshire.

The featured dancer in "Amahl" is Tricia

Schaefer, a newcomer to Antioch. Tricia was involved in drama and dance in college and appeared in PM&L's production of "Carnival."

TICKETS ARE NOW ON SALE at the Antioch Library. Reservations may be made by calling 395-2372 after 2 p.m. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

PM&L, Chamber Present 'Ransom of Red Chief'

The holiday season is almost here again and PM&L is preparing a treat for the entire family in their production of "The Ransom of Red Chief," directed by Tom Hausman.

The play will be presented at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch, at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 27 in cooperation with the Antioch Chamber of Commerce as a gift for area children.

The regular run of the show will be at 8:30 p.m. December 3, 4, 10, and 11. Reservations can be made by calling 395-3055.

"Ransom," adapted by Anne Coulters Martin from a story by O'Henry, is the story of the kidnapping of the original Dennis the Menace with an O'Henry twist. The cast includes Andrew Biel

Names in the NEWS

HOWARD JENKINS

Airman Howard J. Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Jenkins of 1712 Columbia Bay Drive, Lake Villa, has been selected for technical training at Keesler AFB, Miss., in the Air Force personnel field.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., and studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Airman Jenkins attended Antioch Community High School.

Linda Lagerstrom and Glen Amundsen, both of Antioch, and seniors at Augustana College, Rock Island, have been elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Selection is based on leadership and cooperation in educational and extracurricular activities, general citizenship, service to the school and scholarship.

Miss Lagerstrom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Lagerstrom, Rt. 5, Antioch, and Glen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Amundsen, 508 First St.

MATTHEW J. PUCIN

Marine Private Matthew J. Pucin, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pucin of 405 Brittany Lane, Lindenhurst, has completed training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He also participated in a physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill.

A 1976 graduate of Antioch High School, Matthew joined the Marine Corps in June.

Marilyn J. Sterbenz of Antioch is among 35 municipal clerks of Illinois communities who "graduated" last Friday from the Municipal Clerk Institute sequence conducted at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

The institute is an intensive week-long, residential program of continuing professional education for municipal and deputy municipal clerks.

The "class of 1976" is the Municipal Clerk Institute's first group of graduates. The sequence has just been expanded from two years to three to make the completion of increasingly complex subject-matter possible.

KIRK SARMONT

Kirk Sarmont, a sophomore at Antioch High School, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant in the Kenosha Civil Air Patrol Squadron.

The Squadron earned a trophy this year as the best in Wisconsin.

Members attend Thursday night drills and spend weekends on "search and rescue" missions.

The cadets learn flying, first aid, short wave communications and other Air Force functions. They also attend summer camp at the U.S. Air Force base in Camp Douglas, Wis.

Kirk is a member of Antioch's sophomore football team. Last year, as a freshman wrestler, he set school records for the most takedowns, most near pins and the fastest pin, 18 seconds.

FIRST ONE IN traits of a great player

By ED COLLINS

Great tennis players are few and far between. To make it to the very top of the world's ladder is an awesome task. It takes a unique personality with a number of special characteristics to be a champion.

Patience is the first characteristic demonstrated by the 10-year-old future tennis champ. Most of the world's top pros were junior age-group champs; and to be a consistent junior winner you have to be consistent. Basic strategy at this stage is simple: Don't miss. When many points last upward to 30 hits, the eventual winner is the player who can hit the ball back one more than his opponent.

Another characteristic the champ demonstrates is the ability to pay attention to what he's doing — to concentrate. He becomes totally engrossed with the task at hand. He has tremendous self-discipline. He has an academic approach to the game; in practice and during competition he is always learning, questioning and evaluating. His attitude on the court is positive — instead of becoming disgusted with his mistakes, he learns from them.

The most obvious essential of the great player is his athletic skill. His shots, strokes and fundamentals are impressive. His strength, mobility, balance, racket preparation, hand-eye coordination and execution are amazing.

Education Week Nov. 14-20

Plans for community participation in the observance of American Education Week, Nov. 14 to 20, have been announced by Mrs. E. Rathman, president of Antioch 748, of the American Legion Auxiliary.

American Education Week was instituted in 1921 through the combined action of the American Legion and the National Education Association. Since then, the U.S. Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers have joined in the sponsorship. Through the years, over 50 other national groups have added their services as "supporting organizations."

The 1976 theme of American Education Week is "The Schools are Yours - Help Take Care of Them."

"In this year's program, Mrs. Rose Kennedy (education and scholarship chairman) said, "the emphasis will be directed toward helping our schools gain and maintain the kind of public support needed to accomplish the job the nation expects of its educational system. There is a desperate need for better communication and more cooperative relationships between professional educators and the community."

"To help in this, she added, all citizens are urged to reaffirm their commitment to improve education and translate the commitment into action by visiting local schools, especially during the period of Nov. 14 to 20 and giving of their assistance wherever and whenever needed."

TRAVELERS ON Rt. 83 and Grass Lake Rd. had a welcome sight last weekend: the completion of work on the intersection of those two main thoroughfares. The new curbing and re-surfacing are pictured here from The New Place parking lot looking southwest to Kumst market.

YOU: A VICTIM OF GLAUCOMA?

Some one million people 35 years of age and over don't know they are stricken with the second leading cause of blindness in America.

The key to glaucoma control is early detection. The drawback is that there are usually no early symptoms.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has an important stake in stimulating the growth of glaucoma screening, a procedure it first demonstrated in 1942. Community detection programs continue as a Society priority, with some 128,500 individuals screened last year, of which 5,300 were found with suspicious signs.

Glaucoma awareness campaigns have this aim: to make people aware that a glaucoma check should be part of their regular medical examination.

If you want to learn more about the disease you can receive a free booklet entitled "Glaucoma," by writing to The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, SN, 79 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10016.

Happenings

About 30 members of St. Peter's Women's Club got their first ride on the school's new bus when they visited St. John's church in Johnsbury.

The Antioch group toured the church and grounds and learned of the parish's history.

After a luncheon at the Johnsbury Country Club, the woman toured the famous "Hospitality House," which will be sold Nov. 20. Proceeds will go toward restoring the historic St. John's church.

Next week, Monday through Friday, watercolorist Don Leland Brown will be given special attention in the ground floor "Art Gallery" at St. Therese Hospital, Waukegan. His one-man show will be open to the public.

Located on Channel Lake just west of Antioch, Don's studio is part of a multiple-artist complex called the "Artist's Colony at Lakeview Place," owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Pat Turner.

His paintings will be on sale at the hospital Monday through Friday, Nov. 15 to 19, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

A film, "How to Say No to a Rapist - and Survive," is being offered to area schools, social, civic and religious organizations as a public service of Victory

Memorial Hospital and its auxiliary.

Interested groups or institutions wishing to show the film can contact the Director of Volunteers at 688-4127 or make arrangements.

The film will be loaned at no charge. Groups also can view the documentary in the Victory Memorial amphitheater.

Sheriff 'Regrets' Voters' Decision

Lake County's sheriff, E.J. "Chic" La Magdeleine, wanted to provide the county with additional police protection.

But in last week's general election, voters turned down the sheriff's department tax proposal by a wide margin, 82,591 to 30,272.

The proposal would have authorized the county board to levy a tax of not more than .15 percent of the equalized valuation of taxable property to provide funds for police protection by the sheriff's department.

LA MAGDELEINE HAD pointed out that the county's population is increasing and so is the demand for police services. He said he would use the money to add 10 more deputies to the highway patrol and to correct overcrowding at the Lake County jail.

"The crime rate is on the rise," the sheriff said. When voters turned their backs on his proposal, La Magdeleine said:

"It is regrettable that the Lake County voting public elected not to authorize the additional police protection."

"We feel that this office made a reasonable effort to alert the general public to the fact that we are at the present time in a sustained demand for delivery of police services in both incorporated and unincorporated areas of the county," he said.

"ALSO WE INDICATED that our present correctional facilities are quite overcrowded," the sheriff said.

"We have outgrown the present jail facility not only in size but in our effort to promote knowledge about crime, and its prevention and correction.

"The time is past due for the construction of a new facility and for the development of a new correctional concept at the county levels. We need community based alternatives to traditional corrections."

The sheriff said:

"We accept the mandate of the voting public which did not approve the necessary tax levy for police protection at this time. Consequently, we shall reevaluate our present law enforcement policy and set new priorities on delivery of police services. We will analyze the distribution of service requests by geographical areas, dates, and watches. And, if need be, we will make changes in patrol plan and schedulings in these distributions."

Grayslake Stuns Sequoits, But Look Out Next Year!

Wait till next year.

Antioch High School has a bunch of sophomore and junior football players who plan to have a winning season in 1977.

The 1976 season ended on an unhappy note last Saturday when the Sequoits were upset 14-12 at Grayslake.

That left them with a 3-6 record. It was the first win for Grayslake's Rams after eight straight losses.

BUT WITH A LOT OF talent coming back, Antioch should be a winner next year.

Things started out fine at Grayslake, when the Sequoits marched 80 yards to seize a 6-0 lead. It looked as if Antioch, a 12-point favorite, would win as expected.

A 55-yard pass play from Brian Andrews to Mike Vos was a first-quarter brightener. Then Doug Schreiber rambled for 19 yards on a draw play. Al Moore crashed into the end zone from the one-yard-line, but a kick for the extra point failed.

Still, it was Antioch's ball game until horrible things happened in the second quarter.

GRAYSLAKE BLOCKED an Antioch punt and recovered in the end zone. A kick for the extra point put the Rams ahead 7-6.

A little later, Antioch fumbled and lost the ball on its own 30. Grayslake marched to a touchdown in eight plays, scoring on a seven-yard pass. Again the kick was good and Antioch trailed at halftime 14-6.

THERE WAS STILL HOPE. In the third quarter, Antioch put together a 40-yard scoring drive in seven plays. Junior halfback Kenn Rosenbrock plunged in from the two, but the Sequoits' try for a two-point conversion - which would have tied the score - failed. Antioch trailed 14-12 and a scoreless fourth quarter kept it that way.

Antioch was faced with a fourth and 17 situation at the Grayslake 24 before the Sequoits scored. But Tim Huebner caught a pass at the two to set up the score.

Junior quarterback Andrews connected eight times in 16 passes for 130 yards. The Sequoits also gained 92 yards on the ground but simply didn't score enough touchdowns.

Grayslake held Antioch twice inside its own 20, once at the nine-yard-line.

"Grayslake came to play and Antioch did not," said Coach Roy Nelson.

After last year's surprising 7-2 record, the Sequoits' 3-6 mark this year was disappointing.

"I hope it will be more fun for all of us next year," said Coach Nelson.

THE LOSS AT GRAYSLAKE was a bitter pill, especially for some fine senior athletes playing their last game in Sequoia uniforms. That group included defensive captain John Kakacek, who had an outstanding season, and Schreiber, a consistently good ball-carrier. Rich Dauck and Mike Vos also had fine seasons.

Please turn to page 20

EXCEPT FOR TWO FAST touchdowns in the second quarter, Antioch High's defense put the clamps on Grayslake last Saturday. Here, Jeff Mulder halts the Rams' Randy De Rue.

NO PLACE TO GO - Terry Miller of Grayslake (12) fails to penetrate Antioch's defense as he is grabbed by Bruce Kecskemety (78) and confronted by Al Roth (99).

Experts Predicted Grayslake Victory

Of the nearly 100 persons who entered last week's Antioch News football contest, only five predicted Grayslake would upset the Sequoits.

Antioch was a 12-point favorite, but Grayslake triumphed 14-12.

Chuck Hameau, one of the contest's regular experts, accurately picked Grayslake by two points and will receive a $15 savings account from the Antioch Savings & Loan Association. Chuck lives in Trevor but follows Sequoia sports closely.

Erdie Cole of 1055 Bishop St. placed second, picking Grayslake to win by four points. Erdie will receive a $10 gift certificate from BJ Rush Photo Studio.

THERE WERE TWO third place prizes. Sue Koppa, another consistent winner in the weekly contests, picked Grayslake by six points and wins a $5 gift certificate from Antioch's Ben Franklin Family Center.

Charlotte Lucy Braddock of Lake Villa said Grayslake would win by 13 points and will receive a $5 gift certificate from A&B Printing in Antioch.

The only other contestant selecting Grayslake was Kathy Toft, who predicted the difference would be 14 points. Kathy has won prizes in two previous contests this season.

THAT ENDS THE football campaign, but the annual Antioch News basketball contests will start later this month.

So dust off your crystal ball and get ready.

After the first few games, it seemed as if no opponent would be able to stop ball-carrier Wally Wallraf, but then Antioch lost him because of two broken wrists.

Woodstock routed Warren 34-0 last Friday to win the north division title in the Northwest Suburban Conference. It gave Woodstock a division record of 5-0, followed by Warren with 4-1, Grant with 3-2 and Antioch, Round Lake and Grayslake all with 1-4 records.

Woodstock, 9-0 for the season, plays at Zion at 1:30 p.m. today in a Class 4A playoff game leading toward a state championship.

Lease Awarded for Illinois Beach Lodge

The Illinois Department of Conservation ended 15 years of state subsidization of the Illinois Beach Lodge operation by awarding a 10-year lease to Lake Shore Motor Hotels, Inc. of Chicago. The corporation will operate the lodge beginning Jan. 1, 1978, conservation director John McGuire announced.

During fiscal year 1976, lodge operation and maintenance costs to the state amounted to $103,000.

"The signing of this lease culminates a two-year effort to eliminate state subsidies to the lodge's operation," said McGuire. "With the proximity of Marriott's new Great American Theme Park and the new lessee's nationwide referral system, overnight accommodations can be expected to increase. The new lease will permit the state to improve the facility and quality of lodge service to the public without subsidizing the operation or incurring costs for additional capital improvements," McGuire added.

The top bid not only will eliminate State subsidization but also will return an estimated $46,000 annually to the state. In addition, Lake Shore Motor Hotels, Inc. will make an initial capital investment of more than $400,000.

THE LODGE, which will operate as a Holiday

Inn franchise, will be extensively remodeled. At least 50 percent of the guest rooms will be enlarged, all guest rooms will be redecorated and refurnished, and the lobby and meeting rooms will be remodeled. These improvements, expected to cost from $400,000 to $500,000 will become the property of the state upon completion.

Illinois Beach Lodge, located between Zion and Waukegan, offers overnight accommodations, meeting rooms, dining facilities, an indoor swimming pool, and tennis and shuffleboard courts. The state park offers lodge visitors additional opportunities for picnicking, fishing, hiking and nature study.

CLC Spring Sign-Up Begins

College of Lake County district residents may register early for spring semester classes by making an appointment for registration. The appointments will be scheduled between Nov. 22 and Dec. 2.

Appointments may be made by visiting the admission office after Nov. 15 and asking for a registration appointment. The admission office is located in the main building on the CLC campus.

Admission office hours are 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday.

Schedules of spring semester classes, which begin Jan. 14, will be distributed to all district residents in mid-November. The schedule will contain an entire listing of credit and non-credit classes offered during the spring semester.

Information about registration may be obtained by calling the admission office at 223-6601, ext. 300.

The administrative offices of the College of Lake County will be closed and no classes, day or evening, will be held tomorrow, Nov. 11, in celebration of Veteran's Day.

IMPROVING COMMUNICATION between men and women will be the topic of an all-day seminar at the college. "Between Men and Women: A Dialogue" will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 13 in room B156 at the college.

Through small groups and two-person dialogues, participants will explore how responses which they have learned keep them from effective communication.

Because the class is limited in size to 10 men and 10 women, participants are asked to sign up for the appropriate section: CED 836-001 for women and CED 836-002 for men.

Information about the class or registration may be obtained by calling Diana Mrotek, coordinator of lifelong learning programs, at 223-6601, ext. 352.

"EXPLORING BIG BEND" will be third in a series of Audubon wildlife films presented at 7 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 14 in the blue lecture hall (main buildings).

The film explores Big Bend National Park in Texas, which contains both mountain and desert and holds cacti, ferns, pines, snakes and hummingbirds. It is considered a graphic example of what misuse can do to the environment and how nature can repair the damage if given the chance.

Admission for CLC students and children under 12 is free. Others will pay 50 cents.

Information about the series can be obtained by calling Richard Jenkins at 223-6601.

Your Animal's Health

By George Burch, D.V.M. Protecting your dog's health may also protect your own these days. Recent indications are that humans are contracting a canine form of brucellosis (undulant fever) from family pets, but this communicable disease has been difficult to diagnose because the symptoms are similar to those of the flu - fever, aches, headache, loss of appetite, chills.

Now veterinary research has developed a rapid screening test for dogs, which indicates the presence of the disease in two minutes. Every dog owner is urged to have his pet checked, for the pet's protection and to protect humans from unsuspected exposure.

Coffee Cures

Coffee has a long history. When a smallpox epidemic decimated London in the 18th century, persons living near the coffee-roasting plants escaped the disease and medical authorities attributed this to the coffee's protective fumes. Later, cowboys in the American west took to coffee, too. They liked it black, strong and hot. The grounds and water often simmered for days over the campfire. To preserve the accumulated aroma, the large coffee pots never were washed.
